The human body is a wonderful machine which performs several functions without rest from birth. The main organs of the human body are lungs, heart, kidney, liver and brain. These organs work together and are controlled by the brain. Each system such as digestive system, excretory system, circulatory system, endocrine system, nervous system or muscular system carries out a major function. All of them are controlled by the brain which gives us intelligence to use our physical and mental abilities.

An average person is estimated to contain trillions of human cells, according to recent research. These cells include neurons (nerve cells) and glands. The hormones and enzymes are secreted by these glands that perform different functions. The human body is covered by the skin, which is a flexible covering that protects the body and keeps water and harmful germs out. The backbone supports the head and limbs and protects the spinal cord. Between the skeleton and the skin, there are about 500 muscles. The sense organs namely eyes, nose, ears, tongue and skin pass the messages to the brain through nerves, which take the instructions from the brain to the muscles.

Here are some tips for aging gracefully: be kind to your skin which is your largest organ. You should also keep your salt intake to a minimum to keep your blood pressure down.

Success is a state of mind. It's the feeling of accomplishment that comes from achieving a goal. It's the satisfaction of knowing that you have done your best and that you have made a difference. Success is often misunderstood as achieving wealth, fame, or power. Everyone has different ideas and plans for achieving success. However, true success is about personal growth, happiness, and making a positive impact. No matter what the definition of success is, there are certain things that you can do to increase your chances of achieving it. Set goals because when you know what you want, you can start to develop a plan to achieve it. Then take an action and make things happen. Furthermore, be persistent. Don't give up on your goals easily and keep going even when things get tough. In addition, be willing to learn. Never stop learning and growing. The more you know, the better equipped you will be to achieve your goals. Finally, be positive. A positive attitude will help you stay motivated and focused on your goals. Remember, success is not a destination, it is a journey. Enjoy the ride!
